

Course Description:

COU 599 develops foundational skills for entry into the professional mental health counseling program. Learners will begin a journey of preparation concentrating on ethics, knowledge, skills, and processes required for the mental health field. The course is designed for adult learners in which participants are guided to relevant concepts and practical application. Students will extend their life experiences and personal mission statement into and throughout their coursework as theoretical orientation assumptions are explored. Students will continuously reflect on personal growth and professional development as they formulate a culminating identity statement and position paper. Students will critically defend this paper to peers as well as to Doane faculty prior to gaining course credit. Participants will work collaboratively throughout the course while expanding multicultural awareness, gender sensitivity, and ethnic understanding. Finally, students will be challenged to develop an electronic portfolio demonstrating gained proficiencies required within the umbrella of the Doane MAC program.

Course Format:

COU 599 takes a holistic approach to student learning by immersing applicants in the expectations and requirements for success in the Doane College Master of Arts in Counseling program. Weekly classes on campus, online lessons and critical discussion, and continuous engagement in Doane MAC professional graduate tools will challenge program applicants to connect the academic program of studies with individual interests in becoming effective professional counselors.

The andragogy in this course is constructed on the principle that successful candidates to the MAC program are drawn to information they see as relevant, i.e., connected to cognitive sets of concepts they use in their lives; acquire new information by adapting and attachment into theses sets; and practical application of the expanded metacognitions. Course structures will concentrate on the concept that successful candidates will be skilled at using technologies for acquiring and understanding rapidly developing science and practice. Finally, COU 599 will continuously challenge participants to reflect and critically review/defend beliefs, ideas, and practices.

Course Attendance/Assignments:

Attendance and timely completion of assignments are critical to course completion and overall professionalism. Overall course grade will be reduced by one full letter grade for each absence. Late work will not be accepted for credit; however, work must still be completed prior to full application into the Doane MAC program.
